ExecuJet Charter Service Uses its Summertime Schedule as an Opportunity to Completely Refurbish its Website and One of its Aircraft.

Tampa, Fla, Aug. 19, 2009 – Working to continually improve and invest in itself, ExecuJet Charter Service has proactively taken advantage of the summer schedule and completed a 2-month, total nose-to-tail renovation of one of their seven private jets. They also completed a full redesign of their website, www.ExecuJetCharter.com.

For the past two months, ExecuJet's Hawker Beechcraft 800XP2 has been in Lincoln, Nebraska receiving a complete renovation, inside and out. This included all new leather interior seating, including ultra leather sidewall panels and headliner; all new countertops and refurbished cabinetry; all new carpeting throughout the cabin; and completely new exterior paint, including black and gold enhancements.

"The Hawker Beechcraft 800XP2 is just one of the many outstanding aircraft we have available for charter," said Peter Cunzolo, President of ExecuJet Charter Service. "This aircraft has always been an outstanding performer and is a favorite among our charter customers. The customer response regarding the new interior and exterior paint scheme has been tremendous."

What makes this aircraft even more unique is the innovative Aviation Partners Winglets System, which allows for increased fuel efficiency and performance. This system is easily identified on an aircraft by the turned-up ends of each wing.

ExecuJet also redesigned its website over the summer, making it not only more visually appealing, but adding large amounts of additional information to the site that current and potential clients will find useful. This includes new information about ExecuJet's staff and its fleet of aircraft, and an easier "Request a Quote" function.

"Providing excellent customer service is a key principle at ExecuJet," added Cunzolo. "This new website is just one more tool that allows us to do that while continuing to keep our company's brand top of mind in the region."

In addition to aircraft charter, ExecuJet also offers consulting, sales and acquisition, maintenance and management services.
